Dear Prime Minister,

I appreciate your concern over the possibility of air-borne transmission of the, as yet scientifically unidentified, "Covid-19" virus, leading you to mandate the wearing of face coverings in shops, as from the 24th July 2020 in England.

I ask you to kindly provide the name, address, and date of birth, together with liability indemnity insurance details, of one medical doctor who is prepared to state that the mandated wearing of face coverings:

- a) is proven to be effective at preventing the airborne transmission of viruses;
- b) does not, and cannot cause acidosis (oxygen deprivation & excess CO₂) in the body of the face covering wearer, leading to associated deleterious health risks;
- c) does not cause any other health issues of a bacteriological or fungal/mould nature;

Furthermore this doctor is prepared endorse with his signature a document accepting full commercial liability for any and all adverse medical conditions induced by the mandated wearing of face coverings.

If no such medical doctor can be found to state and assume liability that the wearing of face coverings is effective, safe and risk free, I agree to take up your mandated wearing thereof, for a monthly, non negotiable, compensation fee of £10,000 payable in advance, to cover the potential risks entailed in such wearing of face coverings.

Should I not hear from you within 14 days from today, it becomes established that you accept these terms and conditions.

Sincerely,

By:
